ABOUT THE GUYANA BASIN SUMMIT

16 successful oil finds in less than 5 years, more than 6 billion barrels of oil reserves, multi-billion barrels of additional exploration potential, 3 FPSOs awarded and production ahead of schedule in December 2019 make a phenomenal case for the Guyana Basin. The United States Geological Survey has estimated 13.6 billion barrels of oil and 32 trillion cubic feet of natural gas could lie in the Guyana-Suriname Basin, making it the 2nd most prospective, under-explored offshore oil basin in the world.

The Guyana Basin Summit will feature a wealth of content, solutions, an abundance of networking opportunities and provide the region with an invaluable platform from which to drive investment, growth and prosperity. Guyana's petroleum sector is growing quickly in popularity and importance among oil and gas companies and investors, offering a multitude of opportunities locally, regionally and internationally. It is right therefore that Georgetown should be the host city for The Guyana Basin Summit

The objectives of the summit are to drive Guyana, Suriname and French Guiana's hydrocarbon resources and its nascent petroleum industry, becoming the meeting place for industry executives, government stakeholders and experts for networking and for a valuable insight into the region's potential; its challenges and the road ahead.

The Guyana Basin Summit will run over three days in Georgetown. It will include a two-day strategic conference, along with a technical day, covering the whole value chain of the petroleum industry for the Guyana Basin. The conferences will be organised alongside a commercial exhibition offering domestic and international companies the opportunities to showcase their products and expertise and to drive business partnerships.

The Guyana Basin Summit will provide the region with an invaluable platform from which to drive investment, growth and prosperity

The Guyana Basin Summit programme will be developed alongside key themes:

- Positioning the Guyana Basin as a world-class hydrocarbons industry
- Exploration opportunities throughout the Guyana Basin with a focus on country-specific opportunities
- A focus on “Life of Field”, including midstream and downstream opportunities as well as sustainable infrastructural development
- Inter-regional cooperation through production, storage, transport, infrastructure
- Development and investment in-country. In-house expertise, local content and ensuring that the Guyanese people are at the front of their industry
- Protecting the environment and developing a Safe and Conscious industry
- Governmental Best Practices, including: NOC optimization, Sovereign Wealth Funds, the principals and drawing on case studies from across the world
- Protecting Guyana’s resources whilst offering fair returns for investors.
- How oil revenues may support other industries

- Financing oil and gas projects and providing models that work
- Technology focus to highlight best practice solutions relevant for exploration and production in the Guyana Basin

The Guyana Basin Summit will facilitate access to everyone involved in the industry. The Guyana Basin structure will ensure that government officials, industry leaders, executives, engineers, technicians, students all have a part to play in the event. There will be a proactive policy to ensure that domestic companies and local audience will benefit from significantly subsidised participation.

The Guyana Basin Summit will facilitate access to everyone involved in the industry.

Mayson Blackhouse is a Guyanese Energy Investment Firm focused on Upstream Oil and Gas Services, Renewables and Infrastructure.

The strategy focuses on ventures that optimize the sustainable development of Guyana's energy industry. This is done by investing in and establishing home-grown, Guyanese companies to provide goods and services that meet international Oil & Gas standards, thus building up the local supply chain.

We realize that the new opportunities that petroleum production brings to our country also presents new challenges. As such, we are leveraging global expertise and experience to lead and advise our organization and help bridge the local knowledge gap.

Optimizing. Investing. Building. Leveraging. Bridging. We are Connecting the Dots to ensure that petroleum leads to Shared Prosperity and a better Guyana for future generations.

Global Events Partners Ltd is the specialist organising arm affiliated to DMG. Our objectives are to provide conferences, exhibitions, training and meeting platforms, in particular in emerging and newer markets where we have built a significant advantage through extensive experience.

Our directors have more than 40 years' experience between them in this field and have been responsible for launching events that have become major driving forces and catalysts for growth including in Cuba, Colombia, Egypt, Jordan, Kenya, Kuwait, Lebanon, Nigeria, Panama and Uganda. We have enjoyed considerable success in delivery events of the highest quality and underline:
